

A Picture Says a Thousand Words

Here are some short creative writing exercises for you to choose from:

- Write a pen portrait for one of the people in the photo
- Write a comic account of what happens next
- The adults don't look terribly happy! Write a thought bubble for each of the adults on the tram
- What can they see from the tram at this moment in time? Describe the view in front of them

